FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

SENIORS AND MASTERS READY TO STORM THE COURTS

Last year's singles champs will be on hand to defend titles

Nearly 60 of the best seniors and masters croquet players will take to the courts in West Palm Beach, Florida starting November 14 to battle in the USCA's annual Seniors Masters Championship. The event will be held on nine courts at the National Croquet Center and will feature a Seniors level for players in the 60 to 69 age group and a Masters level for players 70 and over. Overall there will be three flights of Doubles play and five singles divisions. Jane Simonds will be on hand to defend her Seniors championship from 2010 while Bob Chilton will be working to defend his Masters title from last year.

The event culminates with finals play on Friday, November 18 along with a Hall of Fame dinner in the evening hosted by the Croquet Foundation of America where past USCA Presidents Dan Mahoney, Dick Brackett and Rich Curtis will be honored.

Spectators and guests are welcome for the tournament and should contact John Osborn at 561-762-5904 or Twenty6to2@aol.com for additional information. Press inquiries should be directed to Osborn or Dylan Goodwin at 913-636-7231 or croquetnetwork@gmail.com
